See what others are saying about us!

It has been the distinct privilege of Cocalico School District to work collaboratively with Aimee Graybeal and Marie Zocco on district publications including the school calendar, district newsletter, and other documents for many years. The creativity, organization skills, and collegiality exhibited by these two individuals has made the process of developing these important publications a pleasure. Each year, one of our publications has received recognition from the PSBA based on its high quality, uniqueness, and professional presentation. I could not imagine working with a more competent team to accomplish these tasks. I look forward to our continued work together on products of unparalleled caliber.

Dr. April Hershey, Cocalico School District

Class Communications did a great job on the Assessment Product manuals; everything was perfect and all the pieces were in the manual and in the right order. In addition, the manual was very attractive. Thank you so much for your hard work to create such a professional product for the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE) and Commonwealth Libraries.

Bright and creative ideas and exceptional customer service skills! Aimee and Marie have always done a fantastic job with our newsletters, calendars, special reports and other publications!

Keith Kaufman, Solanco School District

It has been a pleasure working with Aimee and Marie on many projects throughout the past two years. They are both very creative and make the experience of producing attractive and effective print media easy and enjoyable. I look forward to our future work together.
